A Church Speaks Out

Eighty-seven years ago Abraham Lincoln made the wise observation, "Let the people know the facts and the country will be saved." In any country whose pattern of life is created by the people themselves—as is our own—Lincoln's statement can be translated into action. In other words, a country endangered can be saved by the intelligent action of an informed people. But getting the facts to the people and having them accepted as a basis for action has become progressively more difficult through the years.

There are some notable reasons for this. The Communists' barrage of propaganda falsehoods hasn't converted many Americans to the hammer and sickle banner but it has served to confuse facts with falsehoods. The average American, however, with their friendly, unprejudiced attitude of government ownership and operation of production and distribution facilities haven't got far in retreating party members. But by using half-truths, emotional appeal and personal charm their spell binders have invaded many immature minds especially among the youth.

Materialism Is Powerful
A third collective movement which has been of value in the annals of American political thought for about 17 years has done the most damage. In some quarters it has succeeded in creating a materialistic attitude toward facts—a material refusal to accept the truth. Its leaders are the economic planners or more correctly described as "disregarders of facts." They are seeking a way by the transfer of ownership of our government and way of life. This kind of disregard for facts is a big all powerful government and organization of the people.

They are trying to persuade us that in exchange for various material benefits from the government—such as subsidies, money grants and special privileges—all at taxpayer expense—we should not hesitate to give up a little bit of freedom here and there. This is the same materialism, basically, that motivates Communism and Nazism. Make no mistake, it is powerful! It clings to power with the spiritual values in Christianity, yet it has not enough sacred physical force in Russia, and for a while it has already conquered and enslaved a third of the world's population.

Material Facts
The reason why it has been allowed to grow in America is the inescapable fact of our uncontrolled living standards, created not by government but by a free self-interest people. Another reason is the Christian origin of America, our founding fathers held spiritual freedom above material well-being, and General Washington's men at Valley Forge starved, cold and died so that we, their beneficiaries would not be disgraced by government.

The religious people of America form a powerful backbone against the materialistic materialism which promises benefits for now and then creates a government that first enslaves and ultimately enslaves the people. Church people generally are aware of the course when they step to think that public recognition of it by a large nation-wide demonstration strikes a telling blow. It is heartening, therefore, to read the recent pronouncement of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (North) which condemns the materialistic materialism in American life. It states in part:

A Warning
"The Assembly opposes any form of government or any exercise of governmental power which recognizes the claims and rights of their materialistic rights as granted by the Constitution of the United States." It charged its mem-

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

He Cured Progressive Alcoholism

GEORGE TEMMEN, JR., New York City, says that six months ago he had to make a choice between progressive alcoholism and a decent, respectable, secure and wholly desirable career as a salesman. For two years past he had been caught in a vicious circle where economic insecurity caused worry; escape from worry was sought in alcohol; and the use of alcohol interfered with his sales and aggravated the economic insecurity.

Well, that was indeed a vicious circle. But let's see whether George Temmen extricated himself.

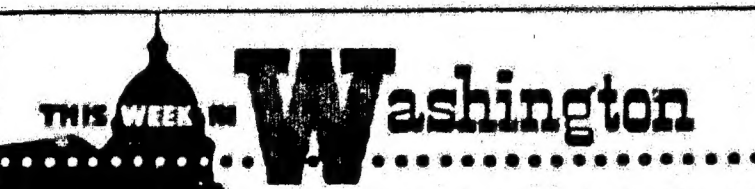

He says he hasn't the slightest doubt that he was kept on the rolls of the company he was working for because of his family. But he couldn't expect them to bear with him any longer. So when he was told they didn't need his services for a further period, he wasn't surprised, though it did come as a shock. He knew that it would be difficult to find another job anywhere near as good, once a prospective employer learned why the company had let him out. He swallowed his pride and pleaded for a trial contract for another six months. Reluctantly the man before him granted him another chance, but for only six months.

Now it was up to him! He analyzed the causes behind increased drinking. He had never been a problem drinker in the Alcoholics Anonymous sense, but he had been drinking more and more with each passing day.

He decided to give it up for one day. When he took a drink the next day he felt guilty. Next, he decided to ask himself to have a drink and to tell himself "No thank you," as he put his mind definitely on something else. That made it a little easier, strange as it may seem.

He now found that it came a little easier each time to turn himself down. In a matter of three weeks, he didn't want a drink. But he adhered strictly to putting his mind on something else, every time he was in the presence of liquor, or even when he saw a liquor advertisement.

The day he told me his story, his six months' contract had just expired, and, hurray for George Temmen, he had just signed a 10-year contract as sales manager for his company.

THE FIGHT being made in the senate by Republican leaders against giving President Truman extra pay for his 1950 defense act is just so much window dressing.

The fact is that within the next six weeks, the country will likely be on a full war-time economy basis and the controls now being asked and granted are just the beginning. The President will need and will get all the controls he needs to mobilize the nation's economy as well as the manpower.

The fight of grocery and other stores due to heavy buying and hoarding of scarce commodities indicates the need of price controls which will come just as soon as the President deems it necessary to clamp down to avoid inflationary spirals. The chances are the strict controls will not be used until after election unless it is necessary for the national security.

Observers here declare that the Korean affair is the showdown with Russia. They believe that if Russia becomes convinced that this country and the other free nations will see the Korean war through to the end, regardless of cost or that we are ready to fight Russia herself, then Russia may call a halt short of a general war. Or Russia's aims may include incident after incident in the Korean manner which will keep the United States on a war basis for years, in the hopes that will weaken this country so that we will be a soft touch for the Russian bear later on.

The job for the American people is to show Russia just how wrong she is and that's a job which takes guts and sacrifice and self-discipline.

The hope here in Washington is that the trial of "McCarthyism" in a time of partisan politics in acceptance of the Tydings committee report will end that sordid chapter in the history of the country. As has been pointed out numerous times, the whole basis of the charge, as made by Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin against the state department was born in politics and in a partisan political speech. After two months of sneaking of behind-the-scenes action during which time the Wisconsin action has not proved a single charge, the subcommittee of the senate committee conducting the investigation returned a report asserting that Senator McCarthy had perpetrated a fraud and a hoax on the senate and the people of the country. The report was accepted on a strict party line vote. The thinking here is that the report may end the smear program and the senate may go about its business. However, if Senator McCarthy will not keep still, there are many here who believe an attempt will be made to impeach him.

A Congressional investigation of alleged scandals in the Veterans Administration may be the next probe undertaken by this probe-conscious congress. According to information, the scandal broke in Tennessee with the suspension of 18 top officials in that state for alleged irregularities in connection with the school program for veterans.

In connection with the veterans program, the American Legion has announced that it will eliminate its lobbying activities with reference to pensions and bonus plans and for all other unnecessary expenditures with regard to veterans. The Legion will devote its full time to backing up the President and the government in its fight against Communism in Korea and elsewhere.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, GOP floor leader in the senate, wants to be sure of the money appropriated for publicity in the Department of Agriculture is used to promote the Brexton plan. So he got through an amendment that the funds set up for the department's information service ($1,353,000) may be used only to publicize programs that have been authorized by congress. Senator Russell of Georgia, in charge of the agricultural section of the big committee bill, said there was no evidence that the agricultural information fund had ever been abused, but he agreed to accept the amendment.

country and the freedom of their faith might well find an example here.

Really Disappointing
A Senate Appropriations Committee research report recently disclosed that there are 41 separate Government printing and duplicating plants in Washington, D. C., 23 in San Francisco, 26 in Philadelphia, 16 in Chicago, 6 in Kansas City, 6 in Denver, 16 in New York, and 30 in other cities.

There are more than 1,100 manufacturing establishments in Maine with total employment of more than 120,000.

By LYLE HULL

MAYBE the "party first, last and always" senator from Maryland, Millard Tydings, sincerely believes that the government has been purged of all "risks" and "subversives." And maybe he is right. He had better be! Today is not the time to tamper with the national security that the party's skirts may be kept clean.

And today is no time for retaining in office any of those responsible for motivating our disastrous policy in China and the far east. Maybe these men are all patriotic citizens, but there are patriotic citizens in the insane asylums, and our far eastern policy has—until recently—been reminiscent of those institutions.

Think what our unbelievable mistakes—if "mistakes" they be—have meant to hundreds of millions of orientals and to hundreds of millions of occidentals. Mark back to Yalta and to that tragic meeting wherein the fate of humanity was sealed by Stalin, Alger Hiss and a tired and sick Franklin Roosevelt, and you will be starting from the foundation of a course of procedure which may go down in history as the greatest setback to man's search for freedom since the barbarians overran Europe in the fifth century.

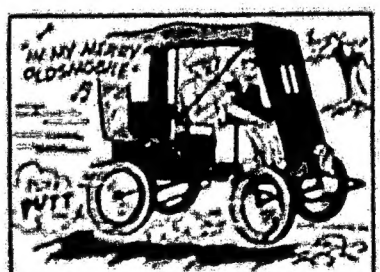

We say "maybe" because no one knows today just what the outcome of Russia's acquisition of China portends. At the worst it can start with the fall of Korea and of all southeast Asia, Japan and the Philippines, and then travel west to India and on to the Mediterranean and the North sea. America's fate will then hang in the balance. At the best it can stop right where it is today—and this seems most improbable.

Not all the present threatening situation can be blamed on our far eastern policy, but the acquisition of several hundred million oriental slaves will certainly strengthen the foundation of the edifice of world slavery which is the nucleus objective of a few power-mad Marxists in the Kremlin and in London, and the physical subjection of these.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLDTIMERS

From H. E. Dutton of Chicago to Marion Leonard: "I remember when song writers were commissioned to write songs that carried in advertising plug, such as 'Under the Anheuser-Busch" and "My Merry Oldsmobile." Let's hear from some other old timers who remember similar songs of yesteryear.

From E. E. Meridith of Fairmont, W. Va.: "I remember how our city went to town during the Spanish-American war with programs, sham battles and everybody singing, 'Just Break the News to Mother,' 'My Sweetheart Went Down With the Maine,' 'Just as the Sun Went Down.' No one, even then, knew the words to the national anthem but everyone could sing 'Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight,' including all verses and repeated choruses."

From "Dibbie" of Chicago: "I remember when everybody was singing, 'Casey Jones,' 'Why Don't the Angels Play With Me?' 'The Bird in the Gilded Cage,' 'Down Went McGinty to the Bottom of the Sea' and 'Ta-Ra-Ra-Boom-Deay.'"

(Readers who would like to fill some of the old-time tunes still lingering in their memory may do so on a postal card addressed to the Old Timers' Column, Box 340, Frankfort, Ky.)

From Irvin M. Davis of Winchester, Ind.: "You can tell a car-penter by his shavings."

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS KETCHUM NEWS

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual - National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

In the light of current events, it is interesting to look back about a year, to the time when the headlines were largely occupied with the debate over what kind of weapons we needed, and how the next war would have to be fought. The star of the Air Force was then in its ascendancy, and it more extensively than the other services, most especially the Navy, and the huge intercontinental bombers could do practically all of the job. The Navy, the argument ran, would in the future be only a minor, auxiliary service, and should be deprived of most, possibly all, of its own planes and carriers. The tank was obsolete, or nearly so, because new weapons had made it practically as vulnerable to fire as a jeep. And the role of the foot soldier, always paramount in past wars, would be a relatively minor one next time.

This is what prompted U. S. News & World Report, in an article on military planning and strategy, to say: "War (in Korea) is putting U. S. military ideas, new weapons, and strategy plans to the test of experience. On the basis of the record to date, the report card on first performance can be marked 'F'." For our experience in Korea has certainly proven that, in this particular kind of "small" war at least, the new weapons and new ideas have not worked the expected wonders.

In this war, the biggest bombs have not been used, nor are they likely to be used to any extent. They are adapted to global, all-out war, in which they would cause a number of vital enemy targets thousands of miles away from their bases.

The Air Force has performed splendidly in Korea and has inflicted heavy damage on the enemy. But reports from the front have said time and again that the jet planes, in this type of campaign, have been a disappointment. Valuable as they are in air combat, they are too fast and too high in the time they can stay aloft to operate as well in close support of troops as piston-engine planes.

Navy air, once written off as an obsolete weapon, has proven enormously vital. The carrier planes operate in support of the ground troops, and are a major factor against amphibious landings. The traditional Navy dominates the seas and the harbors.

The most dramatic example of the worth of an old weapon is in the tanks. It was the greatest single factor in making possible the North Korean drive. The Russian tanks which the Red troops used apparently were superior to ours in fire power and armor.

Finally, the role of the foot soldier has again been all important. Despite all the new and revolutionary concepts yet uttered, the "bloody infantry" has been the key of battles in Korea.

It may be that in the future, and in another kind of war it is hard to say, those new concepts may find a place.

The Ketchum Hunting and Trapping Association will hold their pre-fall meeting the coming week.

A large bull moose was tracked from the Gilman camp, up over the hill and by the camps owned by Mr. Swan and Mr. Wright.

Martin Jackson is oiling up the Association's bear traps in preparation for the coming season.

Bear signs are plentiful in the area. Deer are being seen every evening on the Sunday River road.

The Charles Smiths from Englewood, N. J., were guests at the Gilman Camp for a barbecued chicken picnic recently.

Miss Doris Smith enjoyed a lovely ride during the week with Bruce Yates on his motorcycle.

THE COUNTRY PRESS SAYS

New Albany, Ind., Tribune: "There are already indications that we are to repeat our actions of World War II when we made runs on the store and shops for items which we were afraid would soon be in short supply - and by our own hands brought on the very things we were afraid of."

Corvallis, Ore., Gazette: "Oscar Ewing, one of the prime administration advocates of socialized medicine, says that the number of people in the United States over 65 years of age has increased from 10,000,000 in 1900 to 11,250,000 at the present time. It is hard to believe that it is possible without the benefit of Oscar's socialized planning."

Wilmington, Cal., Press-Journal: "The presidential Fact-Finding Board recommended a 40-hour week and an 8 per cent an hour wage boost. The railroad agreed. The switchmen, however, want pay for a 40-hour week while working 41 hours. The switchmen, by their arbitrary action in derailing the nation's transportation industry, are creating support for Senator Donnell's bills to outlaw strikes and lockouts in the railroad industry. Should it come about, which it will, that called by the switchmen will be responsible."

Berea, Ohio, Enterprise: "Even the best spenders in Washington are a bit scared, and are resorting to schemes to deceive the taxpayers. A couple of their best are to include in budgets authorizations for things to be done, with no appropriation for them. The money will come later after the expenses are contracted for. Another is authorizing of pretentious schemes for small amounts with some potential big appropriations coming up in subsequent budgets."

Lexington, Va., Sentinel: "The Federal government will never be able to economize so long as every congressman is judged by his ability to bring home the bacon."

Justification: They have not so far, and it is evident that it would be a disastrous folly to accept them at theoretical value.

IF THE HIMS of silk or rayon shades are soiled, scrub with a soft brush and mild soapuds before washing the shade. Wash and dry quickly to prevent the wire frame from rusting.

Dip rayon and silk shades up and down in lukewarm soapuds until clean. Rinse in clear water in same fashion, until water remains clear. Drying with an electric fan is a good way to speed drying. Avoid direct sunlight or artificial heat.

Genuine parchment, as well as metallic shades, may be cleaned with a mixture of one part turpentine and 10 parts mineral oil. Apply with a soft cloth, then wipe off thoroughly.

To remove grease stains from rugs, apply Fuller's earth over the spot; let stand until grease is absorbed, then remove with whisk broom.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Coconut Puffs
(Serves 8)

16 marshmallows, quartered
1/2 cup drained, diced pineapple
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
1/2 cup chopped nuts
maraschino cherries

Combine marshmallows and pineapple. Chill for 30 minutes. Fold in whipped cream and chopped nuts. Chill for 2 hours. Drop mixture by spoonfuls on a bed of shredded coconut (using about 1 cup), rolling each into a ball. Chill. Top with pecan or cherry before serving.

Chocolate stains on rugs, if fresh, can be removed by sprinkling with powdered borax, then moistening with cold water. Remove with cloth and cold water. Brush off borax when dry.

Fresh grease spots on wallpaper can sometimes be removed if a blotter is held to the stain and a warm iron applied to it. Move the blotter as grease is absorbed.

Crayon marks on wallpaper can be removed by rubbing lightly with a soft cloth dipped in carbon tetrachloride. All traces are difficult to remove, but repeated treatment lightens them so they are almost invisible.

Paint stains should be removed while fresh with a paint solvent such as turpentine.

SUCCESSFUL

BY
CONRAD
Author of "The Parent's Magazine"

GIVEN HIS CHOICE of spending the summer at a sea shore camp or staying home to do odd jobs around the house, our neighbor's son has elected to help at home. It may be hard to believe, but a normal, play-loving 10-year-old would make this decision and then live up to it by being truly helpful. But this has been the case. However, upon closer consideration, it's not so incredible after all. Bobby's family have just moved into their house. It's not a new house, nor even a particularly attractive one—now. But, the family agreed, it had possibilities. They realized that fixing up this house would take a lot of money or a great deal of effort. And since there wasn't much money, the young parents rolled up their sleeves. But they did so with such infectious enthusiasm that Bobby didn't want to be left out. Now home improvement projects are a family affair.

When the stairs were refinished, Mother scrubbed, Bobby sandpapered and Dad applied varnish. Then everyone had a limeade and a admired the gleaming wood. Bobby thought painting fun, and putting a new game. But raking stones from the front yard and carting them away in a bushel basket was hot, unexciting work. Still, father and son labored cheerfully as they talked about the fine laws they would have. Then there was the fun of going to the hardware store to buy the grass seed. Did they want the mixture which included clover? Did Bobby think they should seed the terrace or plant ivy there?

Being thus consulted, adding his voice to the adult admiration of each finished job, sometimes suggesting a new project—are all part of the reason this youngster doesn't begrudge help around the house. First of all he feels it is his house, too. He shares its responsibilities, but he also shares its satisfactions.

Mothers who ask "How can I get my child to help at home?" may not see the true story of Bobby as an answer to their problem. But Bobby is not an exception. Children in general reflect the attitudes of their parents. Not the feigned attitudes, but the real, often hidden behind a smile attitudes. Do you go about your housework with a martyred air? Perhaps you are careful not to grumble, but do you ever stop to really admire the shining just-scoured sink instead of worrying about the porch which still needs sweeping? Your youngster will hardly find satisfaction in getting his room cleaned up if you just say, "Fine; but what about the cellar?" If John has weeded the flower bed, remember to pass along to him Mrs. Blake's comment that your garden is one of the loveliest in town.

Children like a change in jobs. You may even be able to escape some monotony yourself this way. A task which has become routine to you—cleaning out the dish closet, for example, may be a great learning from sidewalk sweeping for 11-year-old Jane. And you may find yourself enjoying a little exercise in the sunshine. Don't limit your child to comparatively unimportant jobs. He wants to be in on the major projects, too.

Sometimes the method of allotting chores can pave the way for happy compliance.

Nobody's Business

Improvements—new speed limit signs on "Bridge Street," the promise of street signs soon on Main Street as voted at the March Corporation meeting, built up gutters in the vicinity of the post office, newly tarred or "asphalted" roads and streets.

The next few weeks will see great political enthusiasm in Oxford County. A large Democratic vote is expected with a lady candidate for representative to Congress, and the Republicans are girding up to meet the competition. It should be interesting, but don't just stand on the side lines.

A COMMUNICATION

To Carl Brown:

We also have a reply to the letter from Sam Smith in your paper two weeks ago.

We, of the Raiders honestly believe that the people of Bethel and vicinity are 100% for Sunday baseball, horn blowing and all. Most all of our equipment was donated by the good sports and business men of Bethel. We are sure if they didn't want the greatest sport on earth to be played here they would not of donated their money to us. Without it we would not have been a uniformed team today.

In appreciation we are trying to give them the best baseball we know how at any admission they want to give.

MAINE AYRSHIRE ASSN. TO PRESENT Calf to 4-H'er

The Maine Ayrshire Breeders' Association will award a purchased Ayrshire calf to an outstanding and deserving 4-H club member of Oxford County at the Oxford County Fair grounds during 4-H Dairy Day. The calf will be selected from the best stock available, announced members of the association, and will be one that any dairyman would be proud to own.

The only requirements made by the association in the selection of the recipient for the calf is that the youngster have an interest in dairymen, insure the animal, provide proper care and feeding, inoculate calf for Bang's and T. B., and return the first heifer calf to the association so that it may be awarded to another club member in the county.

The selection of the 4-H member will be made by Agnes Jackson, member of the Oxford County Fair Association and superintendent of livestock, the Oxford County Agent, and the Oxford County 4-H Agent.

This is the first award of the kind made to an Oxford County 4-H member for many years and it is a definite indication of the interest shown by Ayrshire Association in the future dairymen of the county.
